PRESIDENT'S LETTER

Robb Altenburg, President, Chesapeake ASSP

Having just returned from Safety 2018 in San Antonio, Texas, I have a lot of exciting news to share this month. First and foremost, we are now the Chesapeake Chapter of the American Society of Safety Professionals! Safety 2018 served as the stage for the launching of the new name and image. Please don't forget to update your web browser's favorites with our new addresses (www.assp.org & www.chesapeake.assp.org).

As I looked over the concurrent sessions offered at Safety 2018 I couldn't help but feel a sense of Chesapeake pride seeing the names of many of our chapter's members who were presenting at the PDC. We are very lucky to have so much talent right here in our very own chapter. Congratulations to all those Chesapeake Chapter members who presented at Safety 2018!

During the conference, I attended the chapter recognition luncheon. Each year the Society scores all chapters to measure their effectiveness in providing local value to the membership. Scores are tallied and chapter awards are presented during the chapter recognition luncheon. Congratulations to our Past President, Paul Esposito for achieving gold level recognition during his 2016-2017 term!

Lastly, I want to wish you and yours a happy and safe Independence Day!

Robb Altenburg

President, Chesapeake Chapter ASSP
